More Pure Water for Victoria If we give credit to whom credit is due, we are bound to credit Councillor Carey with the idea of bringing an abundant supply of pure and wholesome water from Elk Lake and Lost Lake or Jackson's Lake into this city. As we understand the project it is to bring the water from the Lakes in question into this city—a distance of five to seven miles—on the cheapest principle. The object is, and ought to be, to get the largest supply of pure water at the low largest supply of pure water at the lowest cost; and so far as we can fathout the matter, it is within the ability of the City Fathers to manage the matter successfully. We are told that by using an ordinary wooden flume and a ditch discharging into a large reservoir, in some elevated part of the city or its environs, we can have, not only an abundance but a superabundance of pure water, at the ten doors at a cost not exceeding ten thousand dollars, and if the money has to be forrowed; and the the money has to be borrowed; and the flumes tent in repair, we can have it at an expenditure for interest sinking fund, and expense for current repairs, it will not exceed $1,000 per noum. Now such a project, as far as it goes, we heartily support; and if the civic anthorities have not power under their charter to incur the expense, they ought to apply and obtain the authority from the hext Legislative Assembly. It a paltry thousand dollars a year will transfer Elk Leke to the city boundary. it ought to be done. When it gets to that point, it will be very easy to supply the city. The water may possibly be rented to the Victoria Water Company in addition to supplying other parties by pholesale. If the Victoria Water Company will not rent, there will soon be other parties who will. The City Corporation itself could afford to lay out possibly ten thousand dollars a year in laying down mains through the principal streets,—and thus year by year the city may be covered with an abundant supply of pure water. To make the Civic in vestment a sure and certain thing, the law, as in other cities similarly situated, ought to prohibit any private person from competing with the City Water Works. In this way the Civic authorities, might gradually accomplish what by no other means is likely to be secured. If we are to wait till the city is enabled to borrow $60,000 or $80,000 to introduce water, we will base to wait a very long time be-fore we will see it done. At the least, the interest and sinking fund on $60,000 would be $6,000 per year. If to that be added the working expenses of the City Water Works, the anaual Civic taxation, even after deducting receipts, would be greater than city tax-payers would patiently bear, with our present population. The gradual process that we suggest is, consequently, the more likely one to be successful We hold, therefore, that the City Fathers should take the matter in hand at once, -and cause surveys and estimates to be made, so as to lay the matter in an intelligent form before the next Assembly, in order to secure an amended Charter to carry out the undertaking. We have no doubt that the next Assembly will grant the power, without bestitation. But if it be proposed to ask power to involve the city in debt to the tune of $60,000 or $100,000 for Water works, we believe that it would be refused, with the concurrence of all the taxpayers. Victoria is a place that everybody admires. The stranger and the resident are slike in their admiration of its salabrious climate, and its enchanting scenery. It is and will be the most attractive spot on the Pacific Coast. When ocean steamers shall ply regularly be-tween Victoris and San Francisco—when the railway lines end on Puget Sound and connect the outside world with the Mediterranea of the Pacific, this city will become a place of great resort for tourists as well as for traders. Now, we have added to our natural beauties by roads running out of this city in over discountered. this city in every direction. Let us also add the attraction of an abundant sup-ply of pure water. With water supplied at a reasonable rate, the city and envirous could be made a paradise. At present, our dry summer scorches up vegetables, leaving gardens and grounds with the appearance of a desert. But with plenty of water, not only the health of the city would be improved, but fountains would play in every direction in and around the city,—and grounds and gardens that now present a sterile ap pearance with wear the green livery of ever-living vegetation. We commend the water supply question to the earnest consideration of our Civic Fathers; for it is not possible for our citizens to submit, year by year, to a supply of inferior and numbolesome water. Let there be no backing down from the position of bringing the water of Elk and Lost Lakes
